Why We're Building

The current Clovis Senior Activity Center is the only dedicated senior center in the Clovis/Fresno area. It was built almost 40 years ago to give seniors a place to pursue their passions, discover new interests and spend time with friends.

You have a unique opportunity to become involved in the development of the new Clovis Senior Activity Center, A Smittcamp Family Legacy, to continue to meet the needs of our growing senior population. The new Center is more than double in size and provides space for additional programs and services. While the City of Clovis is funding the majority of the facility, private funding from individuals and local businesses will allow us to outfit the facility and reduce debt service. Your contribution is a valuable gift to the seniors of our community and is greatly appreciated!

We're proud to announce that our new facility will accommodate a wide range of exciting activities for local seniors, and will feature:

- Live music events inside and outside on our new stage
- Painting, ceramics, drawing and craft classes in the new art room
- Four billiards tables for play and tournaments
- Yoga, tai chi and Zumba classes in our new dance room
- Western dance classes in the large multipurpose room
- Bicycle repair station with easy access to the Center, transit station or Old Town
- Commercial kitchen and multipurpose room available to rent for weddings, birthdays and private events
- Music and writing classes, computer tutoring, book Hclubs and card games
- Fitness center with modern exercise equipment and on-site training staff
- Comfortable places to read a book, talk with friends or relax
- Professionally trained volunteers and staff
